una dimora da favola...

A scenic view of a gravel path leading to a wooden railing overlooking a lake and mountains under a blue sky with clouds. The path is on the left, leading towards a wooden railing on the right. The railing is made of thick wooden logs. In the background, there is a large body of water (likely a lake) and distant mountains under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. The foreground is filled with lush green trees and foliage.
